“I have been deeply impressed with Lucy’s poise and professionalism over these past few months working on FRACTURED. She is always spot on; she has a real, innate talent as an actress, especially at her age. She has a very exciting career ahead of her.”

Brad Anderson

PROFESSIONAL BIO

Lucy Capri is best known for playing Sam Worthington's daughter, "Peri Monroe" in the Netflix film FRACTURED and co-starring opposite Catherine Zeta-Jones as "Grace," in the Facebook Watch series QUEEN AMERICA. Lucy began performing professionally at the age of two, after a family friend introduced her family to a talent agent, who also quickly recognized her desire to perform, natural instincts and joyful personality. Lucy has since been blessed to work with a number of the industry's most prominent directors, including Academy Award winning actors, in a variety of diverse and challenging roles.

Some of her most prominent roles include: "Peri Monroe" in FRACTURED, "Young Lori Vance" in the Ron Howard / Netflix film HILLBILLY ELEGY, "Grace" in the series QUEEN AMERICA, and "Janita Cooper" in the Disney Plus / National Geographic scripted-series THE RIGHT STUFF, co-produced by Leonardo DiCaprio. Lucy has also shared the stage with Broadway veterans in the 1st National Broadway Tour of the Tony-Nominated Musical "Waitress," as "Lulu" (select engagements). In addition to on-camera and stage work, she is also a professional young voiceover artist with multiple animation, commercial and promo credits to her name.

"Lucy truly did such a wonderful job on the first season of our show - we are so, so, so proud of her! ... Seeing our little actress Lucy do such a great job against the legendary Catherine Zeta-Jones was a very special moment for me. Lucy far exceeded my expectations - she was sooo great!!!"

PERSONAL BIO

Bubbly little Lucy Capri may be small and petite, but her joyful personality is bigger than life. Nicknamed "Lulu," Lucy loves to perform, as well as play with her "babies," kick goals with her soccer team, swim like a mermaid, rock out on her guitar or ukulele, and be a little chef in the kitchen with her mom, sister and great grandma. She also loves to travel and has filmed in various locations across the United States, as well as in Canada and Europe. At any moment, you might find this little homeschooler breaking out in song about whatever is going on (just like her Daddy).

"Lucy just 'gets it'. There are unique times when expressiveness and professionalism come combined in the same person . . . but when someone Lucy's age has these qualities, it's all the more rare."

Andrew Mason

GIVING BACK

Lucy's positive attitude goes hand-in-hand with a maturity that extends beyond her young years. Giving back is also important to Lucy and her family, and together they regularly volunteer with various special needs organizations, food pantries and animal shelters. Lucy has also leant her time and voice to various educational organizations that encourage struggling learners and Christian ministry outreach programs.
